The Washington and New York clubs played another good game Saturday afternoon before a large crowd, when the weather is considered, and the only drawback was that the visitors won out by the score of 4 to 3. The local aggregation hit the ball harder than usual, but the Highlanders outdid them in this respect, and as a consequence were one run to the good when the nine innings had been played.

Mr. Mason, who pitched Schenectady into the championship of the New York State League last season, was on the rubber for the Senators, and the newcomer gave a splendid exhibition, not only with his arm, but in the matter of coolness under trying conditions. The New Yorks started off with three hits and two runs, the result of their first turn at the bat, and it looked as though Mason would be chased to the tall timbers in short order, but instead he came back in such a confident manner that for the next five innings the visitors had to go runless. In the seventh and eighth innings the visitors again got their hits bunched and chased two runs over the plate. The remarkable part about Mason's delivery is his splendid command, and not a man walked in Saturday's game. The vete-rans of the Highlanders tried all the devices known to the game to rattle Mason, but he kept on his way without a wobble, and had the Senators been a little more lucky in getting drives at opportune times he would have won his game. Mason's ex-hibition, at any rate, placed him on the

Opposed to Mason on the rubber was that splendid pitching proposition, Tom Hughes, who did so much for Boston last season in the matter of winning games. The big fellow had a hard time getting started Saturday, but when once under full sail the Senators kept up a steady procession from the bench to the plate and back. He had a world of speed, and with it the puzzling op curves that few pitchers attempt this

This he did, and Ganzel hit a fast grounder to Stahl, which the latter fumbled, and instead of a strike out the big first baseman got an error.

A peculiar play was pulled off in the second inning that for a time had everybody up in the air with the exception of Kitedge, who started the trouble. Drill, Kitdge and Moran were on bases, with honey at the bat. The latter drove a liner of Conroy which was stopped, and the fieldr put his foot on third, forcing out Kit-redge. As it made two out, Conroy paid attention to Drill, but threw to first to tch Thoney. The throw was wild, and littredge seeing a chance to mix things up kept on for home, and drew a throw that landed Moran on third and Thoney at sec-ond. All Moran had to do was to hold third, ond. All Moran had to do was to hold third, but through the yelling and exciting ges-tures of the players of both teams, he started home and was tabbed out on the line, making the third out. Umpire Dwyer had quite a time straightening out matters so that the game could proceed.

Chicago, 5; Cleveland, 4.

Cleveland had the White Sox badly beaten yesterday at Chicago up to the ninth nning. In this inning Tannehill beat out a bunt, two men went out, Holmes was hit by a pitched ball and Jones got four balls. Callahan drove a two-bagger down the field, clearing the bases, and then Green hit to right field, scoring Callahan and winning the game. The score:

University of Michigan Carried Off Honors With Four Firsts.

The University of Michigan carried off the honors on Franklin Field. Philadelphia. Saturday afternoon in the annual carnival of track and field sports held under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. The Michigan men won four firsts, and in doing so Rose equaled the world's shot put record of forty-eight feet two inches, Champion Kramer Won Half-Mile held by Horgan of Ireland. In an exhibition trial, after winning the contest, Rose, who is only ninetsen years old, put the shot forty-eight feet three and one-half inches, but the figures will not stand in the records. because they were not made in competi-

Michigan's other winners were Daane Stone, Perry and Kellogg, in the four mile relay race for the college championship of America; Hahn, in the 100-yard dash, and Schule in the 120-yard hurdle race.

Yale won the one-mile relay race for the college championship of America and the pole vault; Pennsylvania captured the two-mile relay championship race by default, and also won the broad jump. H. C. Egan Won Tourney by Defeating Douglas in Finals.

H. Chandler Egan won the annual spring golf tournament at the country club of Lakewood, N. J., Saturday defeating Findlay S. Douglas, the metropolitan champion, in the finals, 3 up and 2 to play. For the far into the crowd that entitled each man first time the two Egans have appeared in a Lakewood tournament, and while Douglas defeated Walter A. Egan in the first round in the morning, it was only to meet defeat at the hands of H. Chand-led Egan in the afternoon. Douglas covered the course in 81 and 79 Friday, but the best he was able to do Saturday was 87 and 84. The 87 was the result of his match with J. M. Ward in the semi-finals in the morning, when the Fox Hills man made a consistent 83. In the afternoon match with Egan both men started well. Douglas lost one of the brook holes, but quickly evened up matters by making a brilliant 3 on the fourth green. for which each is famous, and there began a series of tremendous drives with the wind, such as have never before been seen on the new course. Douglas drove 300 yards, his ball rolling close to the green, and at the yond the green. At the same time Douglas began the poor putting that cost him the match. He required four putts on the fifty green, and lost

At the turn Douglas was 1 down. The eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth holes went to the westerner. His approach shots were run down beautifully, and his work on the green was perfect, while the play of Doug-las was worse than mediocre.

CYCLE BACES.

Spring Stakes.

Frank L. Kramer captured the half-mile spring champion stakes at the Vailsburg cycle track yesterday in a convincing manner. He and Fenn were teamed for the race, and had as opponents Root and Menus Bedell, each of the latter pair electing to go it alone. Kramer led in most of the journey, and at no time did there seem to be any chance for either Root or Bedell. He was first into the stretch, with Fenn at his rear wheel, and won from the latter by half a length. Root came fast in the last few yards, but was about a foot behind Fenn at the tape. Kramer and Fenn were on scratch in the two-mile professional handicap, but Kramer retired after pacing the back markers for half a mile. There were twenty-four starters in the race, and they bunched at one and one-quarter miles. Root and Hadfield and one-quarter miles. Root and Hadfield were teamed for the race and Root led at the bell. Menus Bedell swung down onto Hadfield as the latter followed Root in the last lap, and refused to move up when Hadfield called to him. Bedell won from Hadfield by less than a foot, Dorlon being third and Root fourth. The quartet finished abreast across the track, with less than a length between first and fourth men. Hadfield protested Menus Bedell, but the referee took no action against the Lynbrook rider. Root won the mile race for "non-winners" without much trouble from John Bedell and Floyd Krebs.

A bad spill on the backstretch in the final heat of the quarter-mile open put Billing-ton out of the running, and Charles Frank of the Yale Bicycle Club of Newark had his collar bone broken. Hartigan won from Rupprecht by four open lengths. Lee re-ceived the decision over Chappey in the five-mile handicap, though every one but the judges said Chappey had won easily. Six thousand spectators saw the rac

Three Favorites and a Second Choice Got Home in Front.

The spring meeting at Aqueduct clos Seturday with some excellent racing, which was witnessed by a holiday crowd of 20,000 persons, although the weather was cold and raw and made those who went to the track in spring raiment wish that they had of a semblance of form than on some of the preceding days of the meeting, which een a harvest for the books, as three favorites and a second choice, all heavily layed, got home in front.

Two stakes were on the card, and both provided problems in the speculation line that kept the sheet writers busy.

The Queens county handicap, for three-year-olds and upward, at a mile, was the chief event, end J. Boden's Rosetint, Burns up, an even money favorite, made all the running, winning easily by two and a haif lengths in 1.80 1-5, equaling the best record for the track, made by Oarsman last October. In the general close up in the stretch Florham Queen and Jack Ratlin, who had shown early speed in their pursuit of Rosetint, stopped, while Colonsay, 8 to 1, and Ostrich, also 8 to 1, came from the ruck, the former taking the place by a head in a the former taking the place by a head in a hot frive, with Ostrich third, a length and a half before Florham Queen.

The Woodhaven stakes, for two-year-olds, at four and a half furiongs, resulted in a long heartbreaking struggle almost from the start. Andrew Miller's Matador, by Masetto-Soncy Lass, 40 to 1, Newton Bennington's Waterside, by Watercress-Tro-yen, 4 to 1, and E. R. Thomas' recently purchased Niblick, by St. Gallen-Braw Lass, 7 to 2, second choice, taking part. Matador was in possession of a slight advantage up to the last furlong pole, where Redfern, who held the rail position with Niblick, went to the front and won in a drive by a length and a half in 0.55. Waterside finished strongly and beat Matador for the place by the same margin. Gold Ten, the favorite, was again shut in just for the place by the same margin. Gold Ten, the favorite, was again shut in just after the break and never got clear.

L. V. Bell's three-year-old Collector Jessup, a 10 to 1 shot, secured the handicap at five furlongs straightaway. He led always and had a length and a half over Newton Bennington's Astarita, 8 to 5 favorite, at the end. The latter was never worse than second and beat Sweet Alice, 10 to 1, by half a length. In another jump Bardolph, 15 to 1, would have been third. He was a nose behind Sweet Alice and came from nowhere. The time was 1.00 3-5.

The public's money was burned up in the first race, for platers, at six furlongs, by Paul Clifford, Dimple and For Luck. Counterpoise, 12 to 1, made a lightning break, instantly showing his heels to the big field, and came down to the wire under Bull-

The event of the afternoon's sport today—the Excelsior handicap—was the chief subject of conversation among the trainers and jockeys gathered on the homestretch. Which one will win? was the never-ceasing question. Will it be Oarsman, Major Daingerfield, Charles Elwood, Buttons, Rosetint, Wotan or Red Knight to land the $10,000 stake?

FAST FIGHT PROMISED. "Kid" Sullivan Meets Eddie Hanlon Next Friday Night

Kid Sullivan, the local lightweight cham pion, will have the fight of his life next Friday evening when he meets Eddie Hanlon of San Francisco before the Eureka Athletic Club of Baltimore. This will be the first appearance of Eddie Hanlon in a Baltimore ring, but his reputation was established in the east long before the little boxer ever decided to leave the Golden Gate. His most notable battle was with Young Corbett, the then featherweight champion of the world, whom he boxed twenty fast rounds to a draw. The next most important bout was with Benny Yang-er, the Tipton Slasher, of Chicago, whom Hanlon defeated in twenty rounds. The record of Kid Sullivan is well known.

The record of Kid Sullivan is well known. He has a long string of victories to his credit and has never been knocked out. His last bout at Baltimore was with Tommy Daly, whom he defeated after fifteen rounds of fast boxing. Tim Callahan of Philadelphia backed out of a recent aght with him. The Kid's friends think he will get the decision over Hanlon.

CHURCH OPPORTUNITY.

Sermon by Rev. W. J. W. Bedford-Jones at Trinity Episcopal Church. Rev. W. J. W. Bedford-Jones of Columbus, Ohio, who is in Washington in attendance upon the conference of the National Florence Crittenton Mission, preached yesterday morning to the members of Trinity Episcopal Church. His remarks bore more directly upon the opportunity of the church in connection with the purposes of the Crittenton Mission. In the course of his remarks, the minister said the church is not manifesting sufficient interest toward the fallen, and that it is not efficaciously and honestly doing its duty in that direction.

"You think," said the minister, "that you do your duty when you adorn the temple of God. Let it be understood that I would not have you strip these walls; I would not have you dethrone the altar of the articles which make it beautiful. But do we put it here to save souls? Can we show God any There are several classes of people who accuse the church of an unjust stewardship One of these classes is the workingman and the traveling man, to whom baptism and the holy communion are meaningless. An-other class is those who live in squalor and who bring a great mental accusation against the church, thinking that God is a monster and an unforgiving God. A third class, who claim the church is exercising an unjust stewardship, is the young women who by degrees have gone down into sin. Every one of them that has not been appealed to, sought after and welcomed back, every one is an accusation against the church. We will not argue that, but when it comes to giving an account you cannot then hide behind the plea, 'My parish did so and so;' you will be held individually. The trouble is that you lack charity."

Society for Homeless Dogs. The Society for the Care of Homeless

Dogs was reorganized at a meeting held at the residence of Mrs. Mary Howe Totten. A large number of members of the organization was present and with them came many new members. The question of a permanent home for the society was the most important question brought up. A committee, including Mrs. S. G. W. Benjamin, Miss Mary Imlay Taylor and Miss Wood, was appointed to select a site. A committee on ways and means was also appointed and includes the following:

Mrs. John H. Henderson, Mrs. J. M. Morgan and Mrs. Neff, with privilege to add to the number.

NOTEWORTHY SERVICE.

Bishop Visits St. Stephen's Church-Class Confirmed, Pulpit Dedicated. St. Stephen's Church, Columbia Heights, was the scene of a special service yesterday morning. The occasion was noteworthy for two reasons. It was the annual visitation of the bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, D. D., and also the dedication and first use of the handsome new pulpit presented to the church by the young people of the parish. The service was read by the rector, Rev. George F. Dudley, assisted by Rev. Wm. R. Bushby, the curate of the parish. The music was well rendered by the large vested choir, and consisted of the Morning Service by Oliver King, in D, and the anthem, "The Lord is my Light," by Horatio W.

Parker.

A class of twenty was presented to the bishop for confirmation, after which he preached a sermon from the text, "In the image of God created He him."—Gen. 1:27.

The new pulpit was made from special designs furnished by the rector in the art rooms of Oscar Suetke, New York city, and more then fulfills all the expectations of Parker. more than fulfills all the expectations of those who presented it. The base is of dark oak, matching in color and finish the other furniture of the church. The panels are in accord with the special designs of the architect of the church, Mr. Wm. Northrop Dudley, brother of the rector.

The main body of the pulpit is of brass, beautifully wrought, and each section is filled with some emblem of symbolic interest. They are the cross, the alpha—omega, young people worked hard for two years to raise the money which made it possible to add this ornament to the furnishing of the
